St. Michael, the Archangel, defend us in battle; be our safeguard against the wickedness and snares of the devil. ## SUMMER TIME LEARNING OUR FAITH

From: “The Catholic Answer Book”
 ~~~Fr. Peter M. J. Stravinskias

Q. I recently went to confession and was told by the priest that it was perfectly permissible to receive Holy Communion without having gone to the Sacrament of Penance. I was under the impression that one could not receive in the state of sin.

A. One must be in the state of grace before receiving Holy Communion, which means the absence of mortal sin, to put it negatively. Your priest was obviously referring to this when he said it is not necessary to go to confession before each reception of the Eucharist, and he was right. If, however, one is conscious of serious sin, then one must use the Sacrament of Penance.

Q. How often should I go to confession? As a convert, I find confession very difficult and unpleasant. Besides, I find myself committing the same sins over and over again.

A. Certain aspects of confession are unpleasant for anyone (convert or not), and they probably should be. An honest confrontation with the sinful self is difficult but necessary if genuine reform or conversion is to occur. The frequency of confession is a personal need and decision. The law of the Church requires one to seek out sacramental forgiveness only if conscious of mortal sin; that is the minimum standard only. A devout person, however, will endeavor to grow in holiness, and this effort is assisted by the grace offered in the Sacrament of Penance and by the guidance of a spiritual Father. Sacramental grace and good spiritual direction provide invaluable helps for a penitent to understand his or her behavior patterns and thus avoid situations which lead to temptation and sin. Most importantly, a believer must also be possessed of a spirit of confidence in the struggle against evil because he or she realizes that the power of Christ is equal and superior to any worldly allurements, “for there is One greater in you than there is in the world. (1 Jn 4:40)

2011-2012 PREPARATION

Sts. Peter & Paul School has begun preparing for the 2011-12 school year.

Several families will be in need of tuition assistance. The Angel Fund was created to help such families. Donors give to the Angel Fund and the school distributes the funds to the families in need. Are you willing to help school families in this way? Angel Fund donations can be of any amount ~ and could be a one-time gift or a monthly donation. Donors may choose to be publicly honored (in the form of lists of our benefactors) or they may also choose to be anonymous.

If you are willing to be an Angel Fund donor contact the school or put your donation in any Mass collection clearly marked “Angel Fund.” The school is grateful for our many generous parishioners who give us so much of their time, talent and treasure.

Every Child born into the world is a new thought of God, an ever fresh and radiant possibility.
