Congratulations to our alumni, Audrey Bieler and Sarah Baune, who are Co-Valedictorians for the GHS Class of 2013. In the past thirteen years, we've had alumni claim the Valedictorian spot six times and have had four Salutatorians. SPPS provided the educational foundation for ten top scholars in just thirteen years!

The Little Black Book: “If I can at least remember that I have God’s life in me, it changes me. If I can at least remember that others have God’s life in them, it changes how I treat them. All because of the Spirit.”

LENTE MEDITATIONS ...(OSV)

23-Jesus challenges us to love without limits. Matthew 5:43-44
 24-How can we listen more carefully to Jesus' words? Luke 9:35
 25-Jesus invites us to imitate God's compassion. Luke 6:36
 26-Let us try to treat others as if they were Jesus. Isaiah 1:16-17
 27-Jesus invites us to share his suffering for others. Matt. 20:23-24
 28-Let us notice and help the poor who are all around us. Lk.16:19-20
 3/1-How can we make Jesus the foundation four life? Matthew 21:42
 2-God is always ready to love us extravagantly. Luke 15:32
 3-God hears our prayers and comes to rescue us. Exodus 3:7-8

Lenten self-awareness can bring with it a temptation to give up before we have even begun the season in earnest. We may seem to have failed so badly, year after year, to grow in the love to which we are commanded. To abandon the struggle is to yield to the “enemy,” the evil that urges us to give in because we know ourselves to be weak. The message of Lent is that God’s merciful love is stronger than all that urges us to settle for the least we can be.

Lenten Parish Mission (EWTN): We have come from God, we are going back to God. Every moment we are in this world is precious to us, because every moment we really are making and shaping our eternal destiny. That is to say we are making ourselves be what we will be forever by the choices we make here and now. The time to store up your treasure in heaven is now. Don't put it off.

“REDISCOVER CATHOLICISM”

By Matthew Kelly

We have spent more than two billion dollars settling lawsuits, but we have not spent a single dime on any special initiative to encourage Catholics in America to continue to explore the beauty of their faith. We have not spent a dime reminding the culture at large of the enormous contributions we make to society as a Church.. We have not spent a dime inspiring Catholics at a time when more are disillusioned about their faith and the Church than perhaps ever before. And that is a tragedy.

The book you were given (and the campaign to provide free or low-cost copies to every Catholic in America) is the beginning of our attempt to raise morale among Catholics, remind ourselves that there is genius in Catholicism, and engage disengaged Catholics.

We have forgotten our story, and in doing so, we have allowed the world to forget it as well. We have allowed the anti-Catholic segments of media to distort it on a daily basis. Our history is not without blemish; our future will not be without blemish. But our contribution is unmatched, and it's needed today more than ever before.

It seems many people have just stopped thinking about it. They have disengaged from the Church to one extent or another and are getting on with their lives. Some refuse to come to church anymore. Great many have stopped contributing financially. Others have left the Catholic Church for their local nondenominational church. And some have tried to ignore the fact that they are angry about what has happened. None of these are suitable solutions for me. The past fifteen years on the road have convinced me of these things:

- 1.) There is genius in Catholicism, if we will just take the time and make the effort to humbly explore it.
- 2.) There is nothing wrong with Catholicism that can't be fixed by what is right with Catholicism.
- 3.) If you and I are not part of the solution, we are part of the problem.
- 4.) If sixty-seven million Catholics in the United States stepped it up a notch, something incredible would happen.

Diocesan Pledge Campaign ~ Although this is the usual time for our Idaho Catholic Appeal, it is not being conducted in 2013 in its usual format. The decision was made to incorporate the 2013 ICA into the campaign goal. ICA will return during its normal timeframe in 2014. This means there will be no separate solicitation for the 2013 ICA.

ICA Goal=$32,711 + Campaign goal = $166,882

Equaling a total for our parish of $199,953

Parishioners can indicate on their pledge card that they want this pledge to go directly towards the ICA and when they do make a pledge for the campaign, they can send in another pledge card or just send in a check made out to the Idaho Catholic Foundation with all information.
