Feast of All Saints Day

The Feast of All Saints, still a holy day on November 1, began in early centuries as a "catchall," remembering martyrs whose names were not known and who therefore did not have their own festivities. It was introduced in Rome on May 13, 610, as the "Feast of All Holy Martyrs" by Pope Boniface IV. The occasion was a gift of the ancient pagan temple of the Pantheon to the church by the Roman Emperor, Phocas. First celebrated on May 13, it was transferred to November 1 for the universal church by Pope Gregory IV in 835. By then it included all the saints. The reason for the new date may have been a practical one. It seems that so many pilgrims came to Rome for the feast that it was moved to the fall when more food would be available after the harvest. The new date spread throughout the church. Its eve, All Hallows Eve or Halloween, gave its name to a pagan Celtic Druid custom still popularly observed on October 31. ...Catholic Customs & Traditions
